WORDS FROM THE WIGGINS

Jim and Barbara Wiggins, Chapter Directors

Although we canceled the monthly gathering in Greenville due to Wing Ding 42 and holiday travel plans, we had a great turnout at Napoli's. Fifteen people showed up to enjoy the evening. Some we saw at Wing Ding 42 but some people we hadn't seen in a year or more. We really enjoyed seeing everyone again. We plan to meet in Greenville at the Buffet Palace on August 3rd at 6PM.

Since Dan and Donna Rymarz (Texas District Directors) showed up, I asked that Dan present the Chapter G2 Individual of the Year medal to George Augustas. George does fantastic work for the chapter and district. This award is a small token of our appreciation for what he does for us.

Barbara and I finally made it home from our extended trip to Wing Ding 42 in Springfield Mo with a further stop in southern Indiana on July 14th. It took a bit longer to get home from Indiana since we mapped a route back on secondary roads. We go there often, but this time were not in a hurry. So, we got to ride through Shawnee National Forest and Ouachita National Forest in addition to many smaller conservation areas and small towns. We really enjoyed the relaxed route except for a small bridge that was closed due to construction in Missouri. We found out just how bad the detour signs were in that area since it directed us down a road that only intersected gravel roads for miles. We finally found a way around, but it took us about an hour to get back to the same place we passed before. Luckily, this time we then knew to turn off the closed road about a mile before the detour sign in get to our destination.

Wing Ding 43 is June 28 – July 2, 2022 at the Shreveport Convention Center, 400 Caddo St. Shreveport, LA 71101. The website is not fully populated, but you can register for the event packages and for notifications when updates occur at the following site <http://43.wing-ding.org/>. Note: I received an email notification that reduced rates will expire on August 2nd 2021 so if you'd like to save a bit of money, register now for Wing Ding 43.

The Texas District Rally will be at the YO Ranch in Kerrville on April 28-30th but is planned to be a complete rally instead of a Ride-in.

See [Texas 2020 Rally \(gwrra-tx.org\)](http://Texas 2020 Rally (gwrra-tx.org)) for information about upcoming rallies. There is a combined New Mexico & Colorado rally in Sante Fe NM, 27-29 August, Kansas Rally in Independence KS 10-11 September, Oklahoma Rally in Muskogee OK 16-18 September and Louisiana Ride-in at St. Francisville LA 11-13 November.

GWRRRA is still offering a Free four-month trial membership. The application form is enclosed with this newsletter. Please let any prospective members know of this offer.

HERE COMES THE RAIN AGAIN!

Wing Ding 42 is now in the past, but prior to leaving, rain and thunderstorms were the words of the week. The forecast encompassing the entire way there and for the whole week we were going to be in Missouri was going to be a soggy one. Luckily, that did not pan out and we were blessed with fairly pleasant to beautiful weather for the majority of the time. Typically (I am told) in Texas, summers have long stretches of clear skies and hot temperatures. Rainy season usually occurs as seasons begin to change—in the spring from March to May and in the fall, September, and October. We all know that this also is often unpredictable. Rain and wind can blow in unexpectedly from anywhere. Here are a few tips to keep in mind for the wet weather:

BE PREPARED! This includes your bike, your gear and knowing your riding capabilities and limitations.

Motorcycle

- Inspect your bike for any oil or brake leakage. Ensure your brakes are functioning properly and identify the wear on the brake pads.
- Check that your tires have proper tread depth and they are inflated properly.
- Ensure all lights are working properly.

- Wipe down your windshield, helmet shield, visor, and eye protective wear. Consider using anti-fog prevention treatment on these areas.
- Preplan an alternate route and/or additional rest stops in the event rain turns into a downpour. Slow rainstorms can quickly turn into drenchers. Expect delays.

Gear

- When looking for riding gear for more adverse conditions, consider the type of water prevention the gear is supposed to have. Water resistant/waterproof clothing including jackets, pants and/or rain suits, gloves, and boots are a must for riding in the rain. The key for good water protection is overlapping seams that don't align. Zippers should be covered with a flap. Jacket and pant cuffs should be long enough to cover the opening of gloves and boots. A cinching mechanism like a hook and loop that can be tightened around the gloves is also ideal. Wet clothes and skin will reduce your reaction time especially if you add being chilled to the mix.
 - Waterproof gloves and boots can be effective in deterring water penetration. They need to fit tight to prevent water from finding a way through. It is recommended they fit tight enough to be tucked into your jacket sleeves, pant legs, or rain suit without restricting normal movement.
- Full-faced helmets will offer the best protection against the rain. For those who ride with ½ or ¾ face helmets, a pair of goggles may be helpful. Consider keeping your visor and vents open (although this sounds counter productive), it can increase ventilation and prevent it from fogging up. In situations where fogging is inevitable, pull over in a safe place and wait till conditions improve.
 - For an added layer of protection for your face a balaclava with a protective outer layer of Gore-Tex or similar material will shed water and block the wind. Balaclavas with straps that loop under the arms and can be tucked into your jacket to prevent it from riding up and exposing potential areas for water to seep in are a good choice.

Preparation is only the beginning. In order to navigate safely be aware of certain wet riding conditions:

- Decreased visibility: Visibility is reduced for all motorists when raining. Look for high visibility features when selecting gear. Reflective stripes and/or bright colors give you a better chance of being seen.
- Reduced Traction: Within the first 30 minutes of raining, more oils surface creating more slippery conditions. If possible, pull over in a safe place OFF THE ROAD and take a break so that the oils and sludge can wash away. If pulling over is not an option, try to avoid riding on painted lines, metal crossings, man hole covers, tar snakes, and through puddles (which may be disguising pot holes or something worse). Also be careful of grass clippings, leaves, and trash that have blown into the street or left behind from poor clean up. When possible, ride behind another vehicle's tire tracks, as they have already forced some of the water away to allow you better traction.

- Obscured objects: Heavy rainfall can obscure uneven surfaces, potholes, and debris. Slow down as much as possible, squeeze your clutch, and coast through if you must ride through puddles. At higher speeds try to maintain a constant speed and avoid sudden jerky changes that can reduce traction.

- Increase braking distance: Braking distance should be doubled due to lack of traction on wet roads. When towing a trailer even more distance is needed. Try to keep as vertical as possible to allow better contact with tires and road. When braking, apply lighter application to the front brakes. Cornering needs to be slow and steady.
- Lightning: If you encounter lightning during your ride find an indoor rest stop immediately and wait it out. Lightning usually seeks out the tallest objects but that electricity has to go somewhere. Don't count on your tires to "insulate" you from electricity traveling along the ground.

Motorcycle riding should be fun. When there are elements outside of our control, we as motorists can respond and adapt appropriately. These include ensuring motorcycle readiness, proper gear, and knowledgeable techniques. This will help us reduce risks to ourselves and others.

Where to go – What to do

Wanting to share an exciting experience with your next chapter ride might sound a bit overwhelming. Questions of where you should go, or what type of activity can be combined with the ride does add a challenge to us all.

Some folks will say the second motto of Gold Wings is "Ride to Eat, Eat to Ride". A ride does not always need to center around a meal, although one should most certainly be of concern.

A destination ride can also be a great choice. Maybe suggest folks bring along a picnic lunch and stop at a park or a beautifully shaded area for mealtime.

A museum can be another ride idea. Possibly a factory tour (Blue Bell anyone?).

Possibly join up with another Gold Wing chapter nearby. Plan a location about midway for the two groups and have a meet and greet and yes, maybe even eat!

As a ride leader, it is always best to have a rider briefing before any ride. Let folks know the timing for the first stop and a summary of how the day will proceed. If schedules need adjusting, before the ride is the most opportune time to make those changes.

Keep in mind it is more about the ride than it is the destination. But a cool destination will always be remembered!
